Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MAPLEWOOD, N. J., Aug. 18.—Miss Laddie Irwin, girls' junior champion of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, won the association's one-day tournament today when she scored an 85 over the Maplewood Country Club course. The Glen Ridge Country Club star went out in 44 and returned in 41.

Second place was shared by Miss Marion Fisher of Lakeville and Mrs. James Patton of Suburban with scores of 86.

Mrs. William Hockenjos of Crestmont, holder of the Women's New Jersey Golf Association closed championship and the Jersey Shore championship of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, took a 9 on the par 3 eighth hole and finished fourth with 89.

Low net honors were captured by Miss Mary Hughes of the Rock Spring Club with 91-15-76.

Miss Irwin clinched her victory on the last two holes. Mrs. Patton, who had finished her round, took a six on the seventeenth and a three on the short eighteenth. Miss Irwin reached the par-4 seventeenth green with a drive and a No. 2 iron and dropped a nine-foot putt for a birdie 3. Her par 3 on the final hole gave her the 85.

Playing directly behind Miss Irwin, Miss Fisher needed a pair of pars to tie. She took a five on the seventeenth, but gained a par on the final hole.
