Mary Doctor's 237 Nets Met Golf Title

Special to the Herald Tribune

DEAL. N. J.

Mary Ann Doctor, pretty 18-year-old daughter of a golf pro, won her first major tournament yesterday and then, as a woman might, she sat down and cried.

The tears were about the entire reaction Mary Ann offered to a whopping seven-stroke triumph in the 30th annual Women's Metropolitan Golf Association 54-hole shore tournament.

For her third round—the previous two rounds were played at the Rumson and Deal Golf Clubs — Mary Ann fired a 40-37—77 over the Hollywood Golf Club course.

The only one in the strong field to break 80 yesterday, Mary Ann finished with a 54-hole total of 237.

Mary Ann, whose father Steve is the pro at Cedar Brook Golf Club on Long Island, won the New Jersey junior girls title two years ago. She disclosed she now will try the U. S. Women's Amateur championship at the end of this month in Rochester.

Finishing directly behind her were three former champions.

Charlotte de Cozen of Montclair slipped to a 43-41—84 for 244, Mrs. Bernard Freeman of Inwood had a 44-44—88 for 248, and Mrs. William Tracy of Essex Fells, the defending champion, had a 42-43—85 for 248.

Althea Gibson, the former U. S. and Wimbledon tennis champion, who had been a contender with a first-day 80 but slipped to a 93, recovered some with a 42-45—87 and finished at 260.
