

Two tied for lead at Quaker Ridge

July 15th

Defending champion Ann Probert shared the first half lead Tuesday in the fifth Women's Metropolitan Golf Association stroke play championship at Quaker Ridge Golf Club in Scarsdale.

Probert, carding an 18-hole total of 40-40 at the 5,945-yard layout which plays to a par 73 for women, was tied with Colleen Binkiewicz of Forest Hills Field who had 41-39-80. Probert was last year's winner at Essex Fells in New Jersey.

The field of 80 was comprised of 30 qualifiers from the Westchester section held at Knollwood, 25 from Long Island and 25 from New Jersey.

Amanda Presto of Lakeover, the current Women's Metropolitan Golf Association match play champion, fired 44-39-83, and was tied with "B" Bower of Pelham CC and Gail Flanagan of Westchester CC. Former amateur champion Lisa Ann Russell of New City and Dellwood CC had 84.
