

Gilmartin retains WMGA Jr. title

SANDS POINT, N.Y.—Adrienne Gilmartin of North Hempstead retained her Women's Metropolitan Golf Association junior championship yesterday on the first extra hole at the Sands Point Country Club.

The 17-year-old parred the first hole of sudden death to beat Jean Bartholomew of Garden City in the stroke play competition.

They had been tied at 163 after the second round of play in the two-day competition. In the 18-hole playoff that followed, each shot a 78 to send it into sudden death.

The net championship went to Tammy Lobren of North Shore on her 181-44-137. Second was taken by Kerrie Wagner of Manasquan River in New Jersey with her 185-46-139. Third was taken by Marcia Podvey of Green Brook in New Jersey on a 138-48-140.
