Tiny Tales from the Tee

My first job after graduate school was in public accounting. Prior to my mid-September start date, the office was holding its annual golf outing. My father encouraged me to attend stating, “it will be a good chance to meet other staff.” Well, when I received a note with the members of my foursome, I said to my father, “not sure I’m going to meet staff at the outing.” I was paired with the managing partner, the partner in charge of the tax department and a senior tax manager.

For the day we weren’t partners, managers and staff, we were all golfers.
