

WMGA Foundation

Tiny Tales from the Tee

I just finished a Sunday afternoon round when I saw two friends, Art and Eric, looking for a 3-hole match. "Want to play?" Art asked. "$10 a hole" he suggested! I replied "too rich for my blood." We settled on $20 for all 3 holes. I grabbed my friend Rhonda and persuaded her to play. Clearly the golf g-ds are women because the first two holes went to us! But Art and Eric didn't want things to end there so they declared double or nothing for the third hole. Again, the golf g-ds smiled down and when Rhonda sunk her putt the match was ours!! Like true gentlemen Eric and Art handed us crisp twenty-dollar bills from their billfolds.

It was the highlight of my golf career!

Author: Mary Borowka, Whippoorwill Club – W/C

If you enjoy reading Tiny Tales from the Tee, please let us know by donating to the WMGA Foundation by clicking on the link on this page. Your donation can make a big difference in a young woman's life.

www.wmga.com/wmga-foundation/